

A concentrated wetting agent specially formulated for use on all turf for both the prevention and alleviation of hydrophobic conditions in all turfgrass situations.

Ideal for use on large areas such as football training grounds and fairways, but safe to use on golf and bowling greens too. Effectively used throughout the winter to keep natural soil and sand-based surfaces dry and playable through wet weather.

Although ideally watered in after application to place the product down in the soil, Wet-X can be used safely without irrigation except in hot weather when watering in following application is advised.

- Combined penetrant and retaining chemistries.
- Aids water percolating through the soil but stores sufficient water in the soil for healthy plant growth.
- Helps get surfaces playable in winter but taking moisture away from the surface.
- Maintain optimal water content of your soils all year round.
